The YES Network:
An international association of early-career geoscientists from over 85 countries dedicated to:

- Fostering international collaborations between early-career geoscientists.
- Improving professional resources and increasing opportunities for early-career geoscientists.
- Creating bridges between early-career geoscientists and environmental policy makers.
- Raising awareness of the importance of geosciences for society.
- Promoting scientific, professional, and academic collaborations between early-career and senior geoscientists.
